

SHUTDOWN SEASON: WHEN EFFICIENCY IS ESSENTIAL

Shutdown season is an important time for an industrial complex when the maintenance department can focus on solving issues that have been piling up during the standard operation period. Over the years VIVABLAST has gained the trust of established industrial leaders working in diverse operational fields.

We have successfully conducted extensive maintenance shutdown period services recently, for major Power and Fertilizer Complexes in the South of Vietnam. ■

ROPE ACCESS ACTIVITIES: THERE ARE ALWAYS FURTHER HEIGHTS TO REACH

Rope access is a safe, cost-efficient, fast and eco-friendly way to handle maintenance works and inspections on heights. Especially when performed by a team of IRATA-certified multi-skilled specialists using latest technologies and equipment available in this field.

VIVABLAST having a vast experience in industrial rope access activities executed several highly efficient projects of this kind for power generation and manufacturing industries. ■
